

By Faith

A one minute Christian skit

by Demarquis Johnson

Copyright © March 2018 Demarquis Johnson and Off the Wall Play Publishers

<http://offthewallplays.com>

By Faith skit

(Teenage boy speaking with a pastor he passes by on the street)

Teen:

I'm not crazy. Its like my dad says people believing in this super hero Jesus to save them belong in a mental institution. No offense.

Preacher:

No offence taken. So you don't have faith?

Teen:

None at all. Zilch, Zerooooo!

Preacher:

What if I told you everyone has some type of faith?

Teen:

(Confident voice) Not me, I'm an atheist.

Preacher:

What if I prove to you that you do have faith?

(Boy laughs)

Teen: Not possible. But if you can walk on water or turn my bike into a three wheeler I might believe.

Preacher:

Step over here. Let me show you where your faith is.

Teen:

No funny stuff. I heard about you preachers and priest. No funny business.

(Boy walks closer)

Preacher:

You just exercised your faith.

Teen:

Huh?