SHOW AND SMELL

By Josie Wert

CAST: Jeremy, Amelia, Lucy, Jane, Teacher, Nurse, Colton, Max, Trixie, Hallie, Teacher's Aide, Cop

PROPS: Sock, baseball, cloth napkins, microphone, karate uniform, Beanie Baby,

[Teacher is sitting at desk stage right. Jeremy stands stage left. Students enter one by one stage left.]

TEACHER: All right, Jeremy. What did you bring for show and tell?

JEREMY: I brought this baseball that was autographed!

TEACHER'S AIDE: Very nice, Jeremy. Who was it autographed by?

JEREMY: My Little League coach.

TEACHER: And why is it special to you?

JEREMY: It's not. My mom said to bring it. [exits]

[Amelia enters holding cloth napkins]

AMELIA: [Talks really snotty] These are my great grandma's cloth napkins and I had to bring them because my dad said they were important to our family.

TEACHER: Those are very nice, Amelia. But didn't you just say they were important?

AMELIA: What's that got to do with it?

TEACHER: Why are they so dirty if they're important?

AMELIA: You've never met my uncles. [flips hair and exits stage]

LUCY: [Enters stage holding Beanie Baby] Today I brought my favorite stuffed animal and his name is Bruno.

TEACHER'S AIDE: Well... he's very, um, unique.

LUCY: Oh yeah, he is. I had to wash him because he fell in the toilet.

TEACHER'S AIDE: O-kay... why does he have marker all over him?

LUCY: Those are his tattoos. Recently he went through a mid-life crisis. [curtsies and exits]

[Teacher and Teacher's Aide exchange bewildered glances. Jane enters holding sheet of paper]

JANE: Today I brought my award from last year.

TEACHER'S AIDE: What's it an award for?

JANE: For being so good at the doctor's office.

TEACHER: Doesn't every kid get that award?
